

Professor T. V. Sekher

Head, Department of Family and Generations
International Institute for Population Sciences

Biography

T. V. Sekher is Professor and Head of Department of Family and Generations at International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS), Mumbai. He also heads the Centre for Ageing Studies at IIPS. He is the Principal Investigator of the two important national ageing surveys- Longitudinal Ageing Study in India (LASI) undertaken by IIPS jointly with Harvard School of Public Health and University of Southern California, and the Study on Global AGEing and Adult Health (SAGE-India), sponsored by World Health Organization. He was Fulbright-Nehru Senior Fellow (2016-17) at Cornell University. He has authored and edited ten books, and has more than 100 research articles in national and international journals. He was consultant to Government of India, Planning Commission, UNFPA, UNICEF, Niti Aayog, etc.