

Professor Hanlin Shang

Department of Actuarial Studies and Business Analytics
Macquarie University

Biography

Professor Hanlin Shang is a Professor at the Department of Actuarial Studies and Business Analytics at Macquarie University. He is an Australian Research Council Future Fellow from 2025 to 2028.

Professor Shang's research interests include functional time series forecasting, empirical finance, actuarial studies, and demographic forecasting. His publications include articles in the Annals of Statistics, the Journal of the American Statistical Association, Insurance: Mathematics and Economics, ASTIN Bulletin, Population Studies, and Demographic Research. He serves as a co-editor for the Australian and New Zealand Journal of Statistics and an associate editor for the Journal of Computational and Graphical Statistics, Demographic Research, Computational Statistics, International Journal of Forecasting and Forecasting.