

Dr Wei Qi

Associate Researcher

Institute of Geographic Sciences and Natural Resources Research

Chinese Academy of Sciences

Wei Qi is currently an Associate Researcher at the Institute of Geographic Sciences and Natural Resources Research, Chinese Academy of Sciences, and a faculty member at the University of Chinese Academy of Sciences. His primary research focuses on population geography and urban geography, with interests spanning population migration, urbanization, spatial planning, and rural-urban planning. His work has been published in renowned journals such as Cities, Resources, Conservation and Recycling, and Applied Geography. He has conducted research visits at the Urban Geography Laboratory of the French National Center for Scientific Research (CNRS) and the International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis (IIASA) in Austria. His research achievements have been recognized with the prestigious Mikahlevich Award.