Isak LADEGAARD
Assistant Professor
Department of Sociology
The University of Hong Kong

Isak Ladegaard is an Assistant Professor of Sociology with interests in economic sociology, science and technology, and criminology. He employs a combination of qualitative and computational research methods in his work. Ladegaard's research has appeared in various peer-reviewed journals, including Social Problems, Social Forces, British Journal of Criminology, Sociology, Socio-Economic Review, and Sociological Review. His 2025 book about informal socio-economic domains, Open Secrecy, was published by University of California Press in 2025. Before returning to the University of Hong Kong, where he did his undergraduate degree, he spent four years on the tenure track at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and six years at Boston College, where he obtained his Ph.D. He was born in Oslo.