Lai WEI
Assistant Professor and HKU-100 Scholar
Department of Sociology
The University of Hong Kong

Lai Wei graduates from Tsinghua University with a BA in sociology and from Princeton University with a PhD in sociology. His research areas are social stratification and quantitative methodology, with particular focus on intergenerational mobility and causal inference.