

Teresa MUNZI
Director of Operations
The Luxembourg Income Study (LIS)

Teresa Munzi is Director of Operations at the Luxembourg Income Study (LIS), where she manages and oversees all operations, ensuring the smooth functioning of the organisation's daily activities and the coordination of its international research and data projects. She has extensive experience in the harmonisation of microdata for the comparative analysis of socio-economic outcomes, with a particular focus on inequality and poverty in income, consumption, and wealth. Her recent work addresses the methodological and empirical challenges of comparing welfare dynamics across high-, middle-, and low-income countries.
